Designing Photographs, Part II, on Zoom

Sunday, October 18 at 2:00 p.m.

Participants will submit (by email) two of their own digital photographs for discussion and review. Subject matter can include portraits, landscapes, garden images, still life compositions, street photography, abstractions, etc. A group critique will examine and discuss these images on the basis of content, composition, expression, technical effectiveness and other design considerations. (Please email arthurhillman@roadrunner.com for a reservation and to submit your photographs).

Memoir Writing

Whether you would like to give your family a record of your key experiences or have aspirations to write a book-length memoir, you can make a start in this workshop. Through writing, exercises and shared readings, you will begin to identify some of the themes that have threaded through your life. Have a notebook and a few fast-writing pens handy.

Please support our Creative Arts Series with a minimum donation of $10 for the two sessions.

Please RSVP to casoffice15@gmail.com if you are interested or have questions.

Barbara L. Janoff was an associate professor of English at the Fashion Institute of Technology, State University of New York, where she taught literature and creative writing. Her poetry and essays have appeared in the Journal of the Columbia College Women's Center, Communication Arts Annual, and the Berkshire Review.

Our 100th Anniversary of CAS begins in 2021. In 1921 plans and fundraising were started to purchase our building on North Street. It took until 1926 for us to receive a charter from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

We have a lot of history and celebrations to plan. Volunteer and help us! There are cartons of old ledgers, artifacts to sort thru and fundraising to fix up our 100 year old building. Let's get our Great Barrington community behind us and help us celebrate. There are many different jobs and I'm sure we can find something that you will enjoy doing. The CAS board has formed a committee and we would love our congregants to join us in all of our planning.
