Hi Folks,

If you're free and interested in some great community conversation please join us at 10 am tomorrow morning for Coffee Hour on Zoom meeting.

We also have services on Saturday morning at 10 am - same numbers. Our get together last Friday evening at 5 pm was such a great way to welcome Shabbat and to start the weekend with the sweetness of wine, challah and candle lighting. We will definitely do it again, often!!!

Our world is in such a state right now. It's almost too much to take in. Peaceful protests turning into anarchic outbreaks all over our country. The virus has now become the second story on the news. The shaking is rattling the foundations of our society. And I ask of you to think about what I ask of myself. To stay strong and healthy, to take care of yourself and everyone else you safely can. Reach out if you feel you need support. Call a friend, call a relative, call your rabbi...don't deal with this alone. Refuse to fall victim to the ongoing monstrous political response... I know it is hard and I know we can do it.

SO please join us as we gather on Zoom for the supportive embrace of our Ahavath Sholom family. No one can make believe, even for a minute, that this isn't happening. Love and listening and support are what we have to offer each other.

With love and prayers for a radical change for the better, Barbara
